

Angela Marie Sperandio-Hart

March 23, 1971 - December 21, 2017

Angela Sperandio-Hart was born in San Diego CA on March 23, 1971, to Robert and Bonnie Sperandio, who also had an older daughter, Stacy. Her first years in school were spent in Gilbert AZ, San Diego after her parents divorced, then Moscow ID through her first year in high school, then Pullman WA, where she graduated from high school in 1989. In Pullman High, she played soccer and was active in the schools Natural Helpers program, which taught students how to help and counsel other students with personal or academic problems. Following two quarters at Eastern Washington University, she transferred to Washington State University in Pullman, majoring in Psychology, and graduating from WSU-Vancouver in 1994. Remaining in Vancouver, she slowly built a career in Human Resources, working for several companies until developing health issues made it impossible for her to continue working. Meanwhile, she married Phil Hart in 2000, a well-employed elevator technician, and together they had two children, Alyssa (Aly), 14, and Jacob (Jake), almost 11. Although she and Phil divorced, they remained friends and he was a source of considerable assistance to her as her health issues mounted. Several of her school associates, from both Moscow and Pullman, remembered her for her kindness, and spoke of it. When in reasonable health, she was seen as extremely humorous and full of spirit and personality. She was strongly dedicated to the welfare of her children and worked closely with Phil to achieve their well-being. She was quite religious but attended no one church. She wrote moving poetry, and heartfelt, intense messages on birthday and Christmas and other cards. She frequently raised with her parents the need for some specific charitable contribution. Angie died in Peace Health Hospital in Vancouver on Dec. 21, 2017, after several months of rapid and uncontrollable decline in health. She leaves her children Aly and Jake; her parents Charles and Bonnie Millham and Robert Sperandio; her sister Stacy (Rob) Dayley and their children Tyler and Ryan; her brother Orion Cassetto; her step-brother Michael (Keleren) Millham; and numerous friends. She will be long remembered and long and painfully missed.

“ When Kathleen and I moved to Gilbert, the Sperandios were our neighbors. I have fond memories of swimming in their pool and helping Bonnie, Stacy and Angie milk the goat. Angie was the cute little girl across the street with always a smile on her face. All my kids remember their friends. George Page “ Angie was such a warm-hearted, compassionate woman with a smile and energy, that was contagious. I had the privilege of knowing Angie through our work and we became friends. She always had the warmest hugs, the brightest smiles and the most positive energy of anybody I knew. Since our kids were of the same age, we loved to share stories of the great things our kids were achieving. Even through our discussions of the challenges of parenthood, she always positive and offered words of encouragement and inspiration. I am a better person and parent for having known Angie. My heart is broken, but I know she would want me to smile and find the positive. I was never as good at that as she was. God bless you Angie! Thank you for your gift of friendship. I am honored to know you. I will miss you. May you Rest In Peace. God bless you.
