“ Ann, you were strong, smart, and wonderfully funny. The friendship and love you shared with Paul was something truly special - the kind that shapes a life. I imagine you had a special way of helping him be the man we all admire. 😊 What a beautiful partnership you shared. Your love and example will continue to guide all who knew you.

“ Anna - my best friend. You taught me so much about compassion, empathy and helping others. You had a spirited fight in for dealing with your cancer, strokes, and falls. In the end, that great big heart of yours gave out. You had limited eyesight yourself but ensured someone now has the gift of sight with the successful cornea transplant. I miss tucking you in and seeing that smile. I miss taking care of you. Most of all, i miss my companion, buddy and best friend

I remember the first time I met Ann and she knew a lot about me but I knew nothing about her but that didn't last long. She was very wonder friend and we will miss her greatly

“ ANNA - my best friend. I surely miss you, your smile, your humor, and your fight when things were tough. You taught me a lot about compassion, empathy, and always looking to help others. Even though you were legally blind, your donation resulted in a successful cornea transplant. So even on passing, you gave the gift of sight. I miss the smile when kissing you on the forehead and another smile when I tucked you in followed by "You are the best tucker-inner." love you so much - Pauly

“ Mama Ann, as I was going through a tough time dealing with the fact that my Dad and real Mom were going through a divorce, you ended up coming into my life and became the best thing that has happened to me. You have shown me what it means to be good upstanding, responsible citizen of this world. You have treated me more like a mother than my real Mom; you were always there for me, cheering me on when my real Mom refused to do so. I am at loss for words to describe how much your (sudden) passing hurts. You will be greatly missed. R.I.P.
