“ I am so deeply heartbroken about Bethany’s loss. I am also overjoyed at the absolute happiness she is now experiencing. One thing I know is that the Lord’s Atonement heals every wound and that we are blessed abundantly in return for all our losses in this life. I know that is true for Bethany, her sweet sons, and her family. Although I haven’t Bethany for many many years, having her light and goodness gone from this earth is a significant loss. She was a powerful and beautiful example of light, consecration, and faith. I am so grateful that her final days were filled with cherishable moments for her and her loved ones. God bless you, Bethany. And thank you for how abundantly you blessed me. Love, Barbara Thompson
