“ Mom, I am so honored to be your daughter, blessed to have learned from you prayer, forgiveness, patience and being open to the work of the Lord in our daily life. I will miss - your bright eyed smile, your arms out stretched for a hug that let me know I was home, talking with you on my way to and from work, sharing our prayer needs & praises, your cinnamon toast (my snack before bed when I was little and when I came to visit), hearing you say " I was hoping it was you " when I called. I know you are so proud of Ryan and Katie graduating & excited to hear about their everyday life. Thank you Momma for always nurturing in me my love of and for the Lord ... you know how deeply I've tried to do this for Ryan and Katie and the other "children" the Lord brings to my life. I trust that the Lord is present walking with them in their lives just as he is in mine. This isn't good bye to you, just your hugs. I Love You, Irene
