“ It's still crazy to think you are gone. I am thankful for the memories I have of the fun we had with our boys when they were little. I just wish we would have reconnected later on.

“ I wish we stayed in touch as you grew older. If i could let Bree know something now, it would be that i love her, and she couldve came and talked to me about anything. There is probably nothing i have not been through. I remember Bree as the most spunkiest happy girl and i wish i couldve kept contact with her. She will always have a place in my heart. So for what its worth,... i love you Bree. --- Your Aunt Mary.
