“ I worked with Bruce Pantley as a police officer for two years. Never had contact after he left the force. Didn't know of his troubles until recently. He was a hard working cop. Very intelligent and an almost photographic memory. Steve Harmon

“ I also worked with Bruce as a fellow medic. I echo the others who considered him one of the most intelligent, diligent people I've ever known who eagerly shared his immense knowledge with whomever was lucky enough to receive it, me gratefully included. Unfortunately, I heard too late about his later troubles near the end of his life and tried to reach out, but couldn't find him. It's tragic he couldn't hear these words of praise before his death. A lesson for all of us to share our thoughts with those we admire before it's too late. Don't hesitate - it will buoy that person's spirits as well as your own.

“ Bruce and I were friends and running teammates at Ingraham High in Seattle. He was very kind and helpful to me as a younger runner, and I really admired him. He had an amazing work ethic and was very motivated. We lost touch with each other over the years, but I have never forgotten him. My sincere condolences to his family.

“ I employed Bruce for several years at the college I founded, Northwest Medical Training, with campuses in Wilsonville, Oregon and Clark County, Washington. Bruce taught in our paramedic programs with the highest level of diligence and dedication to the field of emergency medicine. He challenged our students to think far deeper than the norm, and gained the respect of many for sharing his sense of purpose and determination for bettering the field of EMS through education.

“ When I worked a shift with Bruce, a natural, effective educator, I ended the day a better paramedic than when I'd begun it. Bruce was kind, personable, and caring. My condolences to Bruce's family.

“ I worked with Bruce for many years as a paramedic. His understanding of emergency medicine was way beyond what an average paramedic needed to know. Bruce was never satisfied with mediocre and worked very hard to be the best paramedic he could be. I would rate him in the top 5% of paramedics nationwide. We taught together at Northwest Medical in Wilsonville Oregon and we did the classes required for EMT3's to upgrade to paramedics. It took us months to get everyone through those classes and I still remember us laying on the floor of the classroom after the last class. We were so wore out and relieved that it was over. Bruce always had so much energy and this was the first time I saw him out of energy. I will never forget that. You set a high standard Bruce and I rose to the challenge and even a few weeks ago told a new paramedic about the smartest paramedic I ever knew, Bruce Pantley.

“ I remember Bruce from the Buck days. He was a great partner in whom I had the upmost admiration and confidence. Bruce you always pushed me past good, or even great. You wanted excellence and expected it from me.

“ I remember Bruce as a quiet spoken person and a great educator of EMS personnel. Worked with him at Buck Ambulance/AMR for several years. I good man. My condolences to the family.
