“ Thank you for all the things you taught me about who I was and why, they brought me to who I am now and I know you'd agree that I can do anything. I will never forget the talks we had together, the calmness of your voice was relaxing and helpful on my journey. I think about the things you taught me every single day and apply them to my life. Thank you doll!

“ When I visited Portland, OR to see my "husband", Michael William Eggleston, who was a friend of Ross Bear, I met Christine and was fortunate enough to sit at her table for dinners. We hit it off as though we'd known one another for years. Even after years, it was obvious that Ross and Christine still loved each other very much. I was heartbroken to find out that Christine was journeying through cancer at the same time I was. She was a magnificent human being and will be missed. Of course, she's God's number one counselor when he needs advice. Kathleen Rand Reed (Eggleston)

“ I was so sorry to learn a few minutes ago that Christine has passed away. She was a strong and beautiful woman. Working with her was a wonderful and powerful experience for me. She was a tremendous help and support in so many ways. I am deeply sorry that she is no longer with us. My deepest sympathy to her family and friends and her sweet cat. Azizah
