

Christopher Maeshiro Haske

June 6, 1983 - February 1, 2011

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

VH

“ It's been a year, and it feels like yesterday that you were just kicking it at my house have drinks and a good time. I'm still devastated that you are no longer here man. You are truly missed and I will once again see you.

Vincent Huynh - February 02, 2012 at 12:00 AM

BP

“ Chris, it's been a year since you passed homie. I just want you to know that you were my best friend since you moved to the states. We kicked it for hours talking in front of your house, contemplating the meaning life, playing gt...those days will NEVER be forgotten homie. I miss you more than u can imagine dogg! You don't know what you have until it's gone...rest in paradise homie!

Ben Padgett - February 01, 2012 at 12:00 AM

CO

“ Not a day goes by that I don't think about you, I miss you so much and wish there was something I could do to bring you back. You were always there for me, and could bring me out of a bad mood not matter how depressed I was. I just want you to know that you'll always have a piece of my heart and I'll never stop caring for you. Can't wait to see you again one day. Love you! Colleen

colleen - September 21, 2011 at 12:00 AM

CH

“ Even though its been almost three months since Chris' passing and a couple years since he worked at ETS, Chris is still a popular topic of conversation around our shop. It was in the way he could (and did) make everyone laugh on a regular basis that made him such a special person. I'll bet that we haven't gone a day in over a year without his name coming up a time or two in conversation. He is part of some of my fondest memories of being at work. Every time a Taylor Swift song comes on I can hear chris singing his lungs out in this hilarious high pitched voice as to make fun, although he knew all the words! I'll miss him forever-- Thanks for the memories Haske

Cameron Henderson - April 26, 2011 at 12:00 AM

BM

“ Please accept my condolences, I remember when i first met you, i was chillin with fam an you came over an we all were playin Grand Turismo for hours strait. You've always been there for me whenever i needed you thru thick an thin an i thank you for that bro. You've taught me everything i needed to knoe about cars an drifting. I could never ask for a better friend everytime i seen you you had a smile on ur face an you always wore the beanie with the bill cocked 2 the side ill never forget that. There are so many things i can say about you but words can't express how i feel. Ill see you soon bro. RIP Chris W Haske 2-1-2011 Brett Morrison

Brett Morrison - March 10, 2011 at 12:00 AM

PF

“ Rebecca and Family, Please accept our condolences. May the stars and moon shine on you in a gentle manner; and as you look at the stars, remember that those stars are the spirits of your friends and ancestors shining on you, and they are at peace. May the songs of the winds and clouds sweep the pain and sadness out of your heart. As you hear these songs, know that the spirits who are with these songs are at peace. Our prayers are with you....

Paul N. Taylor & Family - February 17, 2011 at 12:00 AM

YA

“ Hi Chris, I remember our first met was in Okinawa when you were still a kid/boy. Even that time, your smily face was so impressive and I liked it very much. And the second met was in Hawaii, when I visited Hawaii first time by my college program in 2000. Do you remember about this second meet? We saw each other after grew up and feeling something special even being a shy little bit and confirmed each other saying "we are cousins, right?" and smiled. This is the reason why I went to study abroad to Hawaii, I wanted to feel closer to you and all your family. You are the proud cousin who is cool, kind to everyone (to sisters, family and friends...), with a sense of humor, car lover... I was showing a picture with you and me to my family and friends in Okinawa. Thank you for offering your room whenever I visited your family. Thank you for taking me and Nahoko out to your friends' place, I never forget the fun time and a cockroach on my neck. I liked to see you and your sisters playing around. I wanted to have a brother like you! But you are just like my brother. We live apart but always feel really close to you. I was going to visit you and your family after I got a stable job and this was one of my priorities on my wish list, and the time was almost there. Miss your smile, your voice, some of your good japanese and everything so much but you are always here in my/our heart. Love and hug, Yumiko & all your family in Okinawa.

Yumiko Arakaki - February 15, 2011 at 12:00 AM

NS

“ Do you remember, Chris? I met you and your family through my friend, Yumi-chan. Yumiko and I came to Hawaii to go school from Okinawa, Japan. I was so scared to live in the U.S. at that time, but you took me all over the places in Oahu and introduced me to your friends. You told me making friends help to learn English. You were kind and wonderful person. I never forget you. Thank you Chris and Rest in Peace. Much Love, Nahoko

Nahoko T. Shibuya - February 15, 2011 at 12:00 AM

BM

“ Rebecca and family... I am sadden to hear about the unjust passing of Chris.. even tho i didnt actually know him ... I have walked in your shoes myself since 1997 when my son was killed... it isnt an easy task.. and there are so very many unanswered questions.. some of which just plain and simple dont have any answers..... Bec' anytime you feel you need to reach out and lean on some one... i'm always around.... its a longggggggg jouney down that trail.... until you realize that you havent lost a son.... you've gained an angel..... Betty Mathews US CBP / Portland, OR

Betty Mathews - February 14, 2011 at 12:00 AM

JA

“ Our Creator Cares About You During this time of great sorrow, may it comfort you to know that others are deeply touched by your loss. I too know the pain of losing someone dear. Even though our hearts are broken, rest assured that our Grand Creator cares about you personally (1Peter5:7 while YOU throw all YOUR anxiety upon him, because he cares for YOU) and can help you through this difficult time. Revelation 21:4 speaks of a time soon when God will do away with death forever. There will be no more sorrow, heartache, or pain. May your happy memories and sure scriptural hope comfort your hearts during this painful time.

Jacqueline Alexander - February 10, 2011 at 12:00 AM

TF

“ Chris was a friend of my son Andy. We all want to say how sorry we are for your loss. We will miss his smiling face and remember him as a nice funny guy whose friends loved how he cracked them up!
The Law Family Vancouver, WA

The Law Family - February 10, 2011 at 12:00 AM

BD

“ Hey Bobo, I haven't called you that in a long time. Remember when I was little? You always took care of me, always babysitting and changing my dipers (haha). You have always been there for me and have been someone I look up to. You know, I just got my driver's permit, and you hadn't yet taken me driving, I know you wanted to. This summer you were going to teach me all I needed to know about a car so when I finally got my own I would know what to do. You were also going to find a car for me so when I turned 16 I would be able to drive places, without having to borrow the car from Mom. You've always wanted the best for Ashley and I, and I really appreciate it. I'm going to miss you sooo much, too much it will feel unbearable, but I know you're looking down on me and watching me, protecting Mom, Dad, Ash, and I. I'm (well, I know we all will) going to miss your laugh, your smile, your great sense of humor, playing video games with you, seeing all your new car projects, and skateboarding talent. I love you so much. i really do. So here is a hug and kiss from me. ~ Forever your sister, Britt

Brittney Dover - February 09, 2011 at 12:00 AM

BB

“ Since the first time i met Chris, a little over a year ago, he has always been happy. Anytime i was in a bad mood, or feeling down, i could rely on CC to come through to put a smile on my face, even though sometimes it took him forever to show up. He could light up a room, he had a contagious attitude, you couldn't help but be happy to see him, wearing that beanie with the bill, always cocked to the side slightly. CC you made my life better, whether or not i ever told you that, we lost a great presence that cant be filled. Rest in Paradise, i know we'll meet again.

Brian Burrough - February 08, 2011 at 12:00 AM