“ Sorry so late in giving my condolences to Bernie's family and friends. I just heard the horrible news. He was certainly a fine man and the world will be the worse for his passing. I met him through my friend, David Black, who has also passed on. Those two were the best of buddies, and I hope they are up there in the hereafter laughing and playing pinochle. I wish you all the best and hope during your grieving that you remember the good times the way they would want you to. Peace, Tim Shelley
