

Cuong V. Nguyen

December 10, 1952 - April 9, 2026

Cuong Viet Nguyen, age 73, passed away peacefully at PeaceHealth Southwest Hospital on April 9, 2026 at 1:19am in Vancouver, Washington.

He was born on December 10, 1952, in Da Nang, Vietnam, as the second eldest son of the late Ngai and Yien Nguyen. Among the many milestones of his well-lived life, Cuong immigrated to the US in 1991 with his family as refugees under the HO category in pursuit of freedom and democracy. He became a proud US citizen just over a decade later, in 2002, a feat that underscored his strong conviction and determination to live by his values.

Cuong restarted life in the US by going back to school in his late 30s to Clark College, where he earned an Associate's Degree and spent the majority of his professional career at Boeing as a mechanic. He had a gift of working with his hands and loved everything about airplanes. He was an avid collector of model airplanes that he proudly displayed all around his home. Outside of work, Cuong found joy in quiet moments of tending to his potted plants, watering the grass, and having a cup of coffee while people watching at the mall. He also loved traveling with his wife and friends.

Cuong is survived by his loving wife of 44 years, Tudung Thi Nguyen; one son, Huy Viet Nguyen; one daughter, Tuquynh Nguyen Tran; and two grandchildren. He will be missed greatly.

A memorial service celebrating Cuong's life will be held on April 16, 2026 at 12pm at Evergreen Memorial Gardens. We invite all who knew and loved Cuong to join us in honoring his memory.
