

Cynthia Ilene Malcom

May 14, 1947 - November 26, 2013

CYNTHIA I. MALCOM May 14, 1947 ~ November 26, 2013 Born in Albany, Oregon - Cyndi attended Central Linn High School in Halsey, Oregon and Central Oregon Community College where she met her husband of 47-years, Edward. Cyndi and Ed moved to Vancouver, WA in 1969 where they raised their family. Cyndi was a long-time volunteer at Alcoa Little League, and two time First Lady and long-time member of Vancouver Yacht Club. Cyndi retired from the healthcare industry after 35-years at Southwest Washington Medical Center. Cyndi enjoys yachting/boating, RVing, reading, and sunny days on her patio. Cyndi is cherished for her unselfish desire to please others. Always content and happy with her life, Cyndi touched countless others by placing their happiness before her own. Cyndi is held dear for the surprisingly ferocious manner in which she protects her family, and for unwavering loyalty to her friends. Regardless of the situation, Cyndi always has her family's back and always goes to bat for her friends. The nicest person we know, Cyndi is always in her happy place and brings out the very best in those around her. Cyndi's love and kindness will be carried in the hearts of every one she touches, forever. We love, Cyndi. You will never be alone Cyndi is survived by her Husband, Edward; Son, Todd and Dolly; Son, Toby and Julie; Sister, Sherry; Grandchildren, Christopher, Cassandra, Courtney, Brandon, Samantha, Kylar, and Grant; Great-Grandchildren, Cassidy and Mckayla; Mother-in-Law, Jean; plus numerous extended family members. “ What a beautiful, classy woman! You will be missed. Your family is pretty special to me and they are a wonderful testament to the type of person you were. I know there are many broken hearts dealing with your loss and it won't be the same, ever. I am thinking of all of you, Malcom family, and hope you can find the comfort you need in each other. Fondly, Lisa
