“ Sorry to hear that Darold has passed on and sorry for the sadness family and friends are going through. While my husband and I only visited with him a few times, he made great conversation and was a memorable person. We have a thriving rhubarb plant thanks to him sharing a start from his plant or plants there in Vancouver. We enjoy having the plant as it brings memories of him to mind. The plant is doing so well that we have plenty of rhubarb to share with our neighbors. When we share the rhubarb, we share the story of how we came to get the plant and so Darold is talked about here where we live and is actively remembered. We hope your hearts will know peace.
