“ Ethel Anna Taylor was born on October 15, 1922 in Holly, MN to Anna and Arnt Dahl. She lived a remarkable 90 years. Ethel was a truly remarkable lady. She was a loving and devoted wife. Grandma and Grandpa were married for an AMAZING 67 years. They set a wonderful example for all the generations to come on what true love and devotion should look like. My grandma has left a wonderful legacy of love behind. Ethel raised 4 children, Ron, Jim, Patty and Wally, and from the stories I have heard through the years, my dad and uncles were the reason for my grandmas beautiful silver hair. However for all the mischief that her children got in, she did a fine job raising them all into well respected and responsible adults. (I am thinking that it might have been the fabled ironing cord that I heard so much about growing up that kept her children from becoming hooligans.) Through the years, Ethel’s family continued to grow, and she became a grandma. She leaves behind one granddaughter, Vikki and 5 grandsons, Ron, Jimmy, Ryan and Ben. In addition Ethel has 16 great grandchildren and 6 great, great grandchildren. Family functions growing up were always a treat. They generally took place at Grandma’s house and there was always an abundance of food, family and love. Christmas eve you could find the whole Taylor clan gathered at grandmas. She always had the loveliest Christmas tree loaded with ornaments. We would all gather for an early dinner and scrumptious treats. She affected the lives of many, both family and friends. The Dahl/Taylor combination made us who we are today and keeps this family close. You would think that with a family this large that Ethel would not have a lot of free time on her hands, but she always managed to squeeze in time for her favorite hobbies. She enjoyed camping, gardening and baking, and always made sure that the garden was full of flowers and the house and RV was full of cookies. Her specialties were these delicious melt in your mouth buttery, sugar cookies and delightful peanut butter cookies. My grandma was a very talented seamstress and a wonder with a needle. She would produce some of the most beautiful works of embroidery that you have ever seen. Grandma embroidered beautiful pillows, kitchen towels and beautiful baby blankets. Every baby in the family had at least one or two of them to keep them warm. Grandma and grandpa loved to travel, and always brought back such great photos and stories to share with the family. She was our family historian capturing moments in time on film. I can't remember a time that she did not have her camera with her. Going through the photo boxes and albums was such a sweet trip down memory lane. Our grandma will be missed and loved by all that new her. However she has left behind a legacy to carry through the generations. A legacy of family, of caring, and of Love.
