“ I was so sad to hear of your Dad's passing. I wished I could have come to his service. I served with him on the board at Salmon Creek Little League and always enjoyed working with him. The last time I saw your Dad he had run out of gas on Hazel Dell Avenue. I'm talking about 30 years ago. I picked him up and took him to a gas station. I came up with the idea for a collapsible gas can due to that experience since he had to buy one once there. We laughed how it would close up small to put in an emergency kit in the trunk. I discovered someone else came up with it first. He was a very giving man and I know many people will miss him. We wish the best for your family in these trying times.
