“ I was a shop worker for the Dallas and Mavis forwarding Co. on Swan Isle PDX. I think Gil was there when I started in the fall of 78. I still carry his influence on me since those days. Gil had a phrase he used very often that sticks with me to this day. He was always looking at the good side of every problem someone would tell him about. He would listen intently and after you had finished he would say "Ya know what's good about that" and he would give you a positive perspective on the problem that had probably never occurred to you. This is what Gil Porter has passed on to me.....You will be missed but never forgotten.
