“ Dear Karen, Haven, and Gauge, I am deeply sorry. Henry was such a wonderful man, devoted wife, dad, grandpa, employee, and my friend. He taught me so much, and was always ready to help if something came up that involved electricity. I can still hear his laughter when he tried to help me over the phone the first couple of times I had to change out electrical plugs at my parents' place and didn't have the correct circuit breaker turned off. Of course he followed that with "you should have let me come do that for you". That was Henry, no matter how far the drive, he wanted to be there to help. He did so much for me. Henry will always hold a special place in my heart and will be forever missed.
