

Jeanette Eleanor Hasart

October 31, 1942 - December 5, 2009

Jeanette (Jan) Hasart of Vancouver, WA passed away on Saturday, December 5, 2009. Born to Vivian and Roy Spady Sr. on October 31, 1942. She and her husband, Cordell (Corky), celebrated 43 years of marriage. She was a wonderful daughter, wife, mother, "Nanna", sister, and friend, volunteering for the Relay For Life and enjoying her role as Mrs. Santa for the NW Cancer Center, local hospitals, nursing homes, and families. Jan fought cancer for over 12 years and was a courageous participant in clinical studies that extended time with those she loved, contributing to the body of knowledge about breast cancer treatment. She was funny, kind, independent, and caring, often sharing her favorite quote "God isn't ready for me yet and the devil is afraid I'll take over". Jan is survived by her husband, Corky; daughter, Melissa (Jay) Noggle; and son, Todd. She will be sorely missed by her mother, Vivian Spady; sisters, Betty Joe Berry and Jacki (Ed) Beard; and brothers, Roy Jr. (Pam), John, Jim (Patty) and Terry (Penny) Spady. Jan was a savvy "Nanna", keeping up with band, sports, and school in person and via email, with her five grandchildren Victoria, Kaleb, Elliott, Corteney, and Haleigh. Her brothers- and sisters-in-law, Lowell, Bernie, Rex and Tana Hasart will miss her wry humor and adventurous spirit. The family wishes to thank the medical staff at the NW Cancer Center for their exceptional treatment; the staff at Ray Hickey Hospice House for their loving care; and neighbors and friends for many kindnesses.
