

Jerry Earl Livingston

October 18, 1957 - April 17, 2021

Jerry E. Livingston born Oct. 18, 1957, died April 17, 2021, at the age of 63, after losing his battle against COVID-19. He graduated from Fort Vancouver High School class of 1976. He is survived by his wife, Joanna of 31 years; three children, eight grandchildren, his brother, sister, and the many friends and relatives that he held close and dear to his heart.

Jerry had a passion for sports, baseball and football in particular. He loved and appreciated every opportunity given to coach and pass along his sports knowledge to others. For the past 25 years as a truck driver, not only did he spread joy and happiness throughout the nation, but he also once even battled crazed crowds, providing vital paper products to the stores during the great toilet paper shortage of 2020.

We love him and he will be dearly missed.

“ Spring of 1970 Jerry and I were playing Little League on the same team. We were best friends that summer. He was a huge Beatles fan. We must have listened to The White Album a hundred times. He had Beatles posters all over his bedroom. I will miss him.
