

John Rodrigues

March 6, 1920 - November 12, 2013

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

TV

“ Well dang it Grandpa did your first birthday away from home in heaven have to land on our Thursday? My eyes fill with tears each time I think about your birthday today and my heart has so many memories that they can wipe away all my tears to bring happiness to my heart, you made sure of too didn't you Grandpa? I have so many I wanna throw you outa my car to laughing so hard I almost pee my pants to tell me that story just one more time please Grampy? In my heart I go back to some of our road trips and I still laugh out loud when I see one of your famous grins. You were always there even when I fell down a time or two in life. You and Grandma were an amazing pair. I'm so glad you and her are together in heaven for your birthday that's just the way I'd want it. So today I'm going to go to our coffee place and than to get an clair to put a candle it to sing you happy birthday and when I look over to you i better see that silly grin candy man. This is still true today. xo
Tina

Tina Vanderveer - March 29, 2015 at 12:00 AM

CH

“ Dear Grandpa, I have always felt so very blessed to have been able to know and be loved by such amazing people. I ran away to your house. I battled years of abuse and depression with these words, "Christy, you're gonna make it." You and Grandma gave me unconditional love. And when I was so alone ; it was this love that helped me love myself and in turn love others . You both know why I had to move away. Grandma was right, I needed you two as much as you needed me. We are always together. ...

christina - November 14, 2013 at 12:00 AM