“ What can I say about JP. We grew up together from Kindergarten on. I have a lot of memories of laughing and being young and dumb together. Too many to just put one down. What I will say about my old friend is that he was true. As in a true friend, he always had your back no matter what. He was a good man and the definition of what it meant to be a true friend. One of my biggest regrets is not staying in Touch with JP over the years. I often would talk about him and tell stories to my kids about the dumb stuff we used to do. But I took it for granted that we would be meeting up again. And now that he's gone I miss him and his friendship immensely...where ever you are brother, may the beer be cold and the laughs never ending!

“ Johnny P was one of my first managers when I was back in high school. He was great! He made work fun but always got what needed to be done, done. He helped shape me into the employee I am today(along with Zellie). When my high school sweet heart broke my heart at work Jon was there to give me a hug and then build me up so that I could finish my shift strong. He was a good man and will be dearly missed by so many people. My deepest condolences to Zellie and the rest of his family. I'll never forget him. RIP JP

“ I met Jon through Zellie. One thing that always stood out was how good he was with my kids and as a mom of 3 boys, I cannot imagine losing a son. Extra condolences to his mother-I am so sorry. He was just a nice guy with a laugh that I will never forget. See you on the other side Jon!

“ JP was the most solid person I've ever met. He was always there to share a workload, shoulder some emotion, and make you smile. I remember the joy I would get from making him laugh because it was so infectious. His appearance in my life was brief in the grand scheme but his impact was immeasurable. I'll never forget him and I know he affected others the same way, cause it's just the kind of guy he was.

“ JP used to be the only boy in our blended family with three girls. Every year at Christmas JP would build walls with his Christmas presents and I will never forget his smiling face and his giggle from inside his present house. Now, I make sure to box all my children's gifts so Christmas morning they can giggle in present houses of their own. As the years went by like many others I've read about, we were separated by time and space. Whenever we saw each other he had the same sense of humor and the same straight shooter attitude that I will forever appreciate. His mom does not have a Facebook account but I've been sending her screenshots of your comments and memories. I know she also appreciates the kindness, love and support you have shown to JP and everyone that loves him. Karen “ Way, way too young! My memories run from kindergarten to our Senior year of high school and a handful of years after. We shared a lot of firsts in life, all those important memories you keep from ur childhood and JP is included in almost every one of them. It has been very hard to understand how to feel after so many years of being out of contact with JP but when I heard the news it hit like we had just seen each other yesterday. From kids with toys and video games, to years worth of Boyscout trips, skateboarding, windsurfing and body boarding, camping and our experimental years in high school, JP will always be a big part of growing up, sharing first times, helping each other through awkward, frustrating and heartbreaking times. These memories come flooding back and make you remember all the good times. Everyone has a few of those special friends that you can lose touch with for years and as soon as you see them it's like you never spent any time at all apart. JP is definitely one of those special few. Love you and my condolences to all of ur family and friends.

“ Shocked still. From kindergarten to our Senior year. Too many memories and lots of wild times. Boy scout trips, skateboarding, windsurfing, school, summer jobs and of course all the firsts we shared together now that were silly, juvenile and now even a little dangerous looking back!! I can say some of my most memorable memories during my late teenage years were with JP. Many stories and too many good times, many I cant explain or probably shouldn't. He was an important part of that time in my life and I think of him often. Sorry we fell out of touch for so many years, love ya and RIP.

“ I can't say I ever truly knew Jon but he and Zellie were regulars at the 7-Eleven where I worked for years. They were always friendly and smiling, Jon would always greet me by name ask how things were and not even in an out of hand kind of way, he always seemed genuinely interested to hear the latest story about work or life and we had many great conversations in that time. At a store where I saw dozens, if not more, faces in a day few regulars stand out and even fewer do I remember the names of but Jon was certainly one of them. He was, and will, be missed and I wish all the best to Zellie in this trying time.

“ Jon was always there to lend a hand he would help me clean up the meat cutting room so I could get out on time. He would laugh at me because I always needed his help to reach stuff for me on the top shelf.

“ JP and I dated for almost 2 years in high school. We were inseperable. We had the best time together. So many memories come flooding back. Two inparticular stand out to me..... we went to prom our sophomore year and he needed socks, so he borrowed my dad's sock that said "normal is boring" that describes JP for sure!!! Another memory is when he shared with me his secret guacamole recipe, but he said that he always made this recipe when he was naked :) He cracked me up. He was always supportive, cheering me on in sports. Never a dull moment. Even though we didn't keep in touch and it has been over 20 years, he will always hold a special place in my heart and soul. I love you and miss you JP. See you in Heaven!

“ I remember when I first transferred to 559. I felt like a kid in the first day of school. John immediately greeted me and set me at ease with a joke and always was kind and helpful. Didn't matter what he was doing if someone needed help or a laugh he was always there. Thanks John and you are missed. May your memory be a blessing.

“ I remember I was having a really bad day. I called Jon and asked him what he was doing and told him I was having a hard day. Jon invited me over to watch the new Chucky movie and smash some beers. Even though I was going to be a Debbie downer. Jon was always right there to pick me back up, we had one hell of a good day. He was always an awesome guy to help you when you were feeling down. Love you brother, I know you're making someone smile somewhere. ❤️
