“ I was lucky to grow up with Joe as my neighbour. He always called me Hales, and he always had a story to share with me. The best part about walking to the mail box was the visit you might get to have with joe. When my father passed away and June of 2019, Joe was right there waiting for me to return home, and he greeted me with The biggest hug, and it made everything a little less scary. I'm going to miss him so much.

“ There were times when Joey and I would laugh so hard that my stomach would hurt. I will surely miss him. Billy
