“ I understand one of my photos in inappropriate & I apologize. I just wanted to display how loved he was ❤️ I was his first kiss & will always be honored to have that memory. I was friends with him throughout high school for a few years. We lost touch along the way but I had been thinking about him lately. I understand why now. I loved Joey very much. He was unapologetically himself & he didn't take crap from ANYONE. He was a Twitter legend also. Such a funny guy & caring. HUUUUUGE heart. I'm going to miss him dearly. I'm so happy he appeared to have a wonderful woman who could love him as much as he needed (and probably even more). I'm so sad to hear this. It sounds like he was still doing amazing even after high school. RIP sweet Joey

“ This was my son. He was a very kind loving person who would try and help others. He strived for everything for his future. He graduated high school thru Mountain View in Vancouver WA. He then went on to Clark College and then WSU where he graduated in 2020. He then worked at Hela High School as a para educator. He worked very hard there with students that needed help catching up from the pandemic. He ended his job at Hela and went on to Union High School. He worked there from 2021 till May 17th 2022. He had Muscular Dystrophy. He was in a wheelchair from age 11 until he passed. I never considered him to be disabled he did more than any other person I know he never let anything stop him. He never ever complained about his situation. He had a girlfriend he lived with her and they were planning to move to Utah and forge a life for themselves. I was happy for him and he was the happiest I had ever seen him. My son was my hero and someone to look up to with great respect and pure unconditional love. I know he is happy and walking and watching down on all of us that knew him. I will love and honor him until the end of time. He was and is my son forever. I will eternally miss him. I love you forever Joey.
