

Joshua Allen Backman

February 28, 1994 - August 1, 2019

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

AP

“ My dear sweet-sweet forever friend, Josh....
Man, oh man.. I have SO much to say, SO much that if I say it all, this'll be damn near never ending... So I'm gonna keep it as "short" as I can.. thou, it'll still be long. lol. I'm still in disbelief partially.. I can't seem to get myself to actually comprehend that you're truly not on this earth with us in your "human body" anymore... Thou, I do choose to believe you're still here with us spiritually. & Forever will be. I know it's been a few years since life took us on different paths, but before that we were so incredibly close for so many more years. Years I'll FOREVER cherish & hold tightly in my heart. You were seriously the glue that held our group of friends together. I had never met anyone who was pure sunshine in human form until I met you, Jewsh. ☀️ Every day & every night that involved you in any way shape or form, was a damn good day in my book! I'd never had & won't ever have again, a friendship with anyone that I truly cherish so much the way I cherished ours. You were there for me through some/most of the toughest things I've ever gone through in my life. You helped me find happiness again Everytime I'd thought I'd lost it for good, time and time again. I honestly can't really recall you actually being legitimately upset/mad.. & if you were, by any means.. you figured out happiness again in the blink of an eye! Most of my best memories throughout my high school years, not only involve you.. but are BECAUSE of YOU!! & I'll forever wonder how you were so able to fart on command! 🤔👀👀👀👀💩💩 You were such an odd-ball / goofball.. 🤓🤪 & that's just ONE of my most favorite things about you & just ONE of the things I loved the most about you. I wish I had the "right" words to describe how seriously truly amazingly great of not only a friend, but just how amazing of a person you were.. but no words, not even the "best" words could/would do you any justice, buddy! Anyway... I don't know what caused you to do what you did exactly, but I want you to know.. that even thou, yes, I'm so unbelievably hurt & upset & yes, mad.. that you're gone.. & there's no way to ever bring you back... I want you to know, that you're forgivin. I understand. & I'm so sorry for ANY pain you felt during

