“ I became a very close friend of Kathleen's when my husband and I moved into a new house next to her family. I would watch her from my kitchen window while she was sizing up the property divide between our two properties. I told my husband that I felt a little intimidated by her appearance. I said to him, bet she's the wife of a Mob Boss. So let's approach her with caution ⚠️
Now, 37 years have passed. Kathleen became one of my most treasured, closest friends. I loved her as much as my mom and my husband. She carried a heart of gold. She had a laugh that was infectious and was always the life of every party 🥳
My last conversation with her was just 2 days after Easter Sunday. We talked about Jesus and our Christian 🕊️ Faith. She had mentioned that she had been receiving my blessings. I told her how much Faith in God she had and how I admired her for that. Then I sent her a picture out my bedroom window with Jesus holding his hand out to me. She commented, how beautiful Connie, then sent a smiling 😊. That was the last time I would ❤️ ever hear from her. I LOVE YOU Kathleen. You were more than a friend. You were a sister in Christ. I know one thing for sure. HE HAS YOU NOW!

“ Kathleen was more than a neighbor — she was part of the backbone of Water’s Edge.

She stepped forward whenever there was work to be done, never hesitating to lend her time, her voice, or her steady presence. Whether serving on the HOA Board or giving years of care and leadership to the Pool Committee, she helped keep this community running with a sense of responsibility and quiet generosity.

On a personal note, Kathleen never had a bad word to say about anyone. She was the kind of person who could listen without judgment and support anyone who needed to talk through a problem. She was a particular friend of mine — someone who stood by me whenever I needed to vent or cry, always steady, always kind.

As a neighbor, she was the driving force behind the Pool Committee for the last five or six years. No job was too hard, too loud, or too messy for her. She could run a pressure washer or vacuum the pool while laughing, sharing a confidence, or telling a good joke. Her mix of competence, humor, and heart made even the toughest tasks feel lighter.

Those of us who lived alongside her knew her as someone who showed up — consistently, thoughtfully, and without fanfare. Her contributions shaped daily life here, and her absence will be felt in every shared space she helped tend.

We are grateful for her friendship, her service, and the example she set for all of us at Water’s Edge. I personally am blessed that Kathleen was my friend. I will miss her. -- Susan Atwater
