EM

“ There are two days that stand out in my head with you. The first, is the day you were sitting in your rocking chair, and I asked you about what war you fought in and what it was like. I'd never seen your face light up the way it did in that moment. You told me every little thing you remembered and what it felt like. You seemed so happy to be sharing your experiences with me and I was so happy to hear them. The other day I remember is the last day I came to see you at home. You asked me about school and told me I grew up fast. We sat in silence watching tv and it couldn't have been more perfect sitting with you. Please be my guardian angel”-

“ I know you are sitting by a stream with a fishing pole and your line is in the water....you have a special place among the Angels.....”-
