“ Aunt Leslie, You will be missed. You were strong and loud and exciting. You were restless. You always had to be doing something. If that meant you were going to lay in bed all day, then that was what you were going to do. You taught me how to blow dry my hair and how to use a straight iron because it got so long at grandpas it took all day to dry. Getting you out of bed was hazardous to any who took on the challenge as you liked to throw pillows at them. You loved movies but you couldn't sit still long enough to watch one all the way through. You would come back after doing whatever you had thought of and would ask what you had missed... drove us all crazy. You gave the best kind of hugs. The kind that felt like you would never let go. It didn't matter if you were only going to leave our site for ten minutes you'd give us that hug and tell us to have fun or have a good day and wave with that goofy grin. Quirky only scratched the surface of who you are. I love you and I will see you later.

“ Dear Aunt Leslie, it is a tragedy that you left us so soon. I'm going to miss you so very much. You may be gone, but you will never ever be forgotten. I will remember my time I spent with you for an eternity. I remember when we went to the rose garden up there. It was so beautiful and we had a great time. We kept throwing pennies in the fountain because we had hundreds of them. I had an amazing time that day. I loved every bit of it. I mostly loved the fact that I got to spend it with you. We both loved flowers. I wish I could have gone up there again to see you. I really wanted to. But now you are gone and even though you gone your memories still live. Now you can make heavens gardens even more beautiful. You sing with grandpa and the angels. I love you so much Aunt Leslie and I'm going to missing even more!

“ Leslie, who considered me her sister and I considered her mine, is very much missed. She was regularly visiting my parents and would call them Uncle and Aunt. They also will miss her horribly.

“ Well not sure where to begin. Of course just got to say that my sister could walk thru walls, cut thru steel, and walk thru nails. She was so tough She could move her highchair across the floor, take a fork in her check, and a chin dive into the street on our way to California. Just keep in mind she would never take a pee in the woods...ever. My dear sister..I love you with all of everything I have and I promise you... I will do my best to share your spirit and life.

“ I have known Leslie Since middle school, We have gone through lots of things together getting in trouble getting MIP's hangng out in Mr Odems Van out in the back.. Getting married having children and being there for eachother. Then we hit our 20's and drifted apart I still thought of Leslie as my bestfriend for life and wished things would be different.. I love you Leslie and miss you so much we will meet again someday.

“ It's sad to see such a young woman leave us so soon. My aunt was always a fighter. She had so much trouble in her life, but she always went right past it like it was nothing. It means a lot to me to have known her. She was so silly. And I love her so much. And I will miss her more than ever before. As DaVinci once said "As a well spent day brings happy sleep, so life well used brings happy death," I believe that Leslie really did fuffil her life. She made wonderful friends and was loved by so many. And now that she is gone, it's time for her to enjoy her eternity with God happier than ever. We all will remember her. Until we meet again, my beautiful Aunt Leslie Jo.

“ Leslie and I had known each other since middle school, She was an amazing friend to me all though our time there. We lost touch for a while since we went to different high schools, but then my brother started dating her sister Laura. It was like we were back in middle school all over again and picked up right where we left off. I will miss her incredibly. She was a great friend and amazing woman.

“ Leslie had a kind heart and a great smile. She liked to take long walks and truly loved everyone she met. I know that she and her Dad are having a great time in heaven, fishing and going to see her Dad's "underwater house". She will be missed by more people than she realized. She is now truly happy. Bye honey, we'll meet again!

“ Leslie is my baby sister she has left a huge hole in my heart. I wish we could have had more time together, but what time we did have was filled with love and lots of laughter. Boy the stories I could tell. She was a light of smiles and friendship. I was a bit jealous of her ability to make flowers and gardens grow so beautifully when all I can grow are weeds. Her love for all the people she came in contact with was amazing to see and now I hear of so much more. Baby sister I love you and will miss you so very much. Tell daddy hi for me and make the gardens in heaven beautiful

“ You have been in everyone's thoughts and in their hearts. No one got the answer they wanted to hear. Those that loved you would have liked to have had more time with you but it just wasn't to be. Your journey is over but your beautiful smile will always be here with us to remember and see. Rest Well.
