

Margaret Elizabeth Click-Taylor

May 1, 1935 - March 1, 2010

Peggy Click Taylor of Vancouver, WA, died on March 1, 2010 after a courageous six-year battle with ovarian cancer. She was born May 1, 1935 in Seattle, WA to Denton and Frances Keller, the eldest of four children (Nancy, David, Dennis) and was a cheerleader at Lincoln High School. Peggy was a Tri Delta sorority member at Whitman College and it was there that she met and married William "Bill" Click, who later passed away in 1993. Peggy and Bill made their home in Vancouver WA, where they raised their four children and immersed themselves in community activities including Camp Fire, Alcoa Little League, Vancouver Rose Society, Columbia Presbyterian Church, Rotary, and Clark County Quilters. She was a beloved teacher of 4-6th grades at Ben Franklin, Martin Luther King and Lakeshore elementary schools. Upon her retirement, she lived half time at Black Butte Ranch, OR where she enjoyed bridge and quilting and met Al Taylor, whom she married in 2002. They enjoyed travel, musical theater, bridge and a devoted companionship. Peggy instilled a love of learning and a love of family to her children and grandchildren. She is survived by her husband, Al; daughter, Kelly/Dave Christel, Kasey (Brian Watkins) and Kyle; daughter, Sally Click/Art Furman, Kelsey and Davis; son, Carl/Jil Click, Jack and Sarah Click; son, John/Debbie Click, Ashley, Alyssa, and Amy.
