“Mary and her sisters were the "Ormsby cousins" of my brothers and me, the "Jones Cousins." Her father and my mother were siblings. The two families lived near each other in our early years and in our school years we saw each other regularly. Over the course of our adult lives we all stayed connected and visited when we could. I will miss Mary and am grateful to have chatted with her and Ed early this year to wish them another "happy new year" together. Now, I wish Ed and the family many good happy memories to comfort them.
