“ Matt, I remember the first time i ever seen you at school. You were the first person to ever say hi to me in the hall or become my friend. You were an amazing friend. You were an amazing person in general. You were nice to everyone and you loved to make new friends. I cant believe it has been almost a year now since you past away. I really miss you alot and you will always be in my heart. You may be gone but no one will ever forget the kind of person you were and how caring you were. I will never forget you. You are always in my heart. Forever and always. I love you Matt. Lexi.

“ I met Matt only once and spent about two hours photographing him for his senior portraits, less than two weeks ago. I could tell from working with Matt for that short period of time that he was an exceptional young man. I instantly took a liking to him. I immediately recognized that Matt was down-to-earth, genuine, sincere, true, kind, gentle, and immensely likeable. This news today has been stunning to me. Tonight, as I prepare his senior portrait images for his family, I greatly mourn his passing. I can only imagine how deep the loss is being felt by those who knew him better than I. To you Matt, may you rest in peace, dear soul. I was very touched by you in the brief time that I knew you. My most heartfelt condolences go to Jennifer and the rest of Matt's family.
