“ I had the privilege of working with Molly at the Sonoma County Library in northern California before her retirement in 2006. She began as a children's librarian and had advanced to the position of assistant library director by the time the library system hired me in 1990. I will always remember Molly's generosity toward me, both in writing recommendation letters when I applied to graduate school to earn my Masters in Library and Information Science, and also when she took the time to attend my mother's funeral in March 2002. After Molly's retirement I didn't keep in touch with her or receive any specific news other than her having relocated to Washington state. I only hope and pray that the last decade of her life was very happy, fulfilling and rewarding, and that she can now dwell in Heaven forever in the company of Jesus Christ and her other family members and loved ones. It was a sincere privilege to have worked with Molly for sixteen years, and I will always have positive memories of her.
