

Pearl Muriel Moore

January 7, 1919 - March 16, 2010

"She has reunited in joy with those she loved who passed ahead of her, and her kindness, generosity, and love will be remembered always by those who remain." Pearl Simpson Moore of Vancouver, WA, passed away March 16, 2010 following a short illness at the age of 91. She was born with the flu that devastated and gripped the world in 1919 and it was thought that she would not survive. She, of course, did, and lived a full life surrounded by loving family and friends. One of her happiest moments in later life came with the birth of a great-granddaughter. Finally!! Pink dresses!! She also loved the party that was given to her celebrating her 90th birthday, surrounded by friends at Fairway Village and her family. A pink miniature rose bush will be placed in her yard of 26 years to honor this wonderful sister, mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, and friend. Pearl is survived by brothers, John Pring and Lorrie (Val) Pring; sons, Ron (Pam) Simpson and Ken (Penny) Simpson; grandsons, Will (Jenny) Simpson and Ben Simpson; step-grandsons, Patrick (Grace) Sullivan and Chris Sullivan; great-grandchildren, Sean and Megan Simpson; and step-great-grandsons, Titus and Theo Sullivan. She was preceded in death by her first grade sweetheart, first husband, and love of her life, George Simpson; her second husband, Dale Moore, who provided her with new adventures; and a grandson, Andrew Simpson.
