“ My 1st born, it is my first Mothers Day without your presence. My world is so quiet without you in it. I can see your smile and hear your kolohe laughter. I remember my first Mothers Day as if it were yesterday. You, Daddy and I spent the whole day at drag racing and you loved every moment of it. You did everything in a big way....you loved large. I miss being your Mommy! My heart is trying really hard to adjust to your absence...but i will never be the same until we are together again in Gods house. Until then, I hold you always in my heart and soul. Mommy is always loving you my Big Boi!!!

“Pace” was one of the few people who knew my cousin, Chris Raugust. We would reminisce about him, and he always had something to say to make me smile. One of the most genuine and interesting people I've ever met. Truly a brother to those who knew him, take or give a bullet for those close to him. No words for how sad I am or how shocked I was to hear this. Wasn't your time, bro. Love you, cuz. Until we see each other on that shore up High, alohaz, Cousin

“ The last I spoke with Randy, he was insistent that I get a check up with the V.A., and make sure I get taken care of. I eventually did, and it has helped me tremendously. He was always looking out for his veteran brothers who made it back.

“ Randall pace and I did not know each other as well as we should have. But when I was always impressed with the last case respect for authority. And concerned about the precious rights of others. Randall the entire world loves you and most of all Jesus loves you. I don't know all the details.

“ "Pace" was my son's best friend when he lived in Georgia. I always enjoyed when he came to visit and listen to his stories and jokes. He referred to me as Mom, never by Ms Poole, made me feel special. I didn't understand Hawaiian language although he tried to reach me hello and goodbye. He said aloha was hello, and I said well then what was goodbye, he would laugh because I couldn't remember and said it was aloha also. I asked how it could be both but he would just smile, laugh, give me a big teddy bear hug, tell me he loved me and day aloha. I've missed that big teddy bear if a guy. Aloha "Pace", Rest in Peace and love. And if I ever make it to Hawaii, when the wind blows I know it will be you saying aloha!
