“ Reggie was a wonderful drummer in the Drum & Bugle Corp in the early 70's and came to live with our family his senior year in Battleground. He was so excited to graduate and was a wonderful kind person, Reggie stayed in contact with our family and when my brother passed in July of this past year he was there for him and his family - as we moved out of state, we just heard of his passing and we will miss him greatly. God Bless him and his family, I will see you on the other side Reg ❤️❤️

“ I worked with Reggie for probably 20 years. He was a legend with the fellow techs. One of the smartest guys I've ever worked with and always a pleasure to be around. When he bought the property in Washington I had a chance to work on his house with him. He was literally building most of it himself which I'm still impressed with to this day. I always told him he was the Guido Sarducci of Oregon. I'm very sorry for the family and know he will be missed by many. God bless my friend and I will see again someday

“ Reggie was a great man
Always help with technical support.
He taught me a lot. He was one of a kind and will be missed by all he touch. God bless you Reggie.

“ I first met Reggie in 6th grade as I remember. We met in band class both interested in drums. Reggie stuck with it and loved expressing his love for music through the art of drums. I followed his leading but Drum and Bugle proved too much for me. Our friendship has spanned 57 years which seems like a long time in "earth years" but thats just a drop in the time bucket through the lense of Faith. I dedicate these two songs to you my brother and dear friend. I look forward to seeing you in the life that is still to come.
Love you Reggie.

“ I had the pleasure of working with Reggie over the past several years. He was a great analyst that always had his thinking cap on, we would talk for hours on Global Solutions Deployment and end our calls with a chuckle or a laugh. His innovation and collaboration will be greatly missed but more than anything his contagious laugh and sharp is what I will miss the most. Rest in Peace Brother.

“ Please accept my most sincere condolences on the loss of Reggie. He was a terrific, collegial, and downright fun colleague at work and this is truly shocking. His memory will be a blessing for me, and I wish for his memory to be a blessing to all who knew him.

“ Had a lot of fun working with Reggie - both in training classes in Atlanta and cross-country collaborating on configurations and issues. One year while visiting my family in Cazenovia NY had some fun sending him pics of his sister's farm and pretending that he was there. Reggie was always a good person to talk to when you needed to figure something out, or just let off some steam. I will miss him.

“ Although we never met face to face, we had many calls over the years. Reggie was always willing to help with the software solution that I was trying to install and configure, he had a way of making it easy to understand and not over complicated. I and the Ricoh family will miss him.

“ I met Reggie about 1994. I was shocked he was going for an Engineering degree at the University of Portland. He saw the digital age coming and although he was already a great technician, he had higher dreams. He was an incredible friend, he was always striving to be a great husband and uncle. He was a committed Christian and was also striving to be a dependable child of God and loving others. He is in heaven and is better off than us, but he will be deeply missed. Reggie served others so very well.

“ Originally met Reggie when I joined the production color team as a service tech. I remember the year we both made it to the "international technician Olympics" in Las Vegas (last year they had it). Reggie had a habit of doing well when it came to knowledge contests. Reggie was always a straight shooter with me, and I will miss him.
