“ Granddaddy Bob was one of the greatest men that I ever knew. Even though he litterly lived on the whole other side of the country I felt so close too him. Being a young boy I remember talking to him everyday and him always calling me "Bubbafin" or "My Man". I remember being seven years old and him coming back to Columbus for a week. Him and Grandmommy Anne stayed at our house and he took me fishing and came to my T-Ball Games. I'll never forget being a young boy and him decorating his house for christmas when me and my mom came out one year and me being astonished at how amazing his house looked and replying "Is this the north Pole?" He was honestly one of the most geniune and nicest people you would ever meet. I am blessed that I was a part of his life. Even though in his death and as sad as it is, I look at this as an oppurtunity to celebrate the such wonderful life he lived and the great impact he made on each of us. His enthisiium and liveliness. Granddaddy's legacy will always live on with all of us and I will miss him so Dearly. I LOVE YOU GRANDDADDY Love. Keith
