“ My beautiful Son, I loved you with all my heart from the moment I felt you grow in my belly, and that love grew more and more over the 29 years god blessed me with being your mother. I will love you forever and to infinity and beyond. My life has forever changed since your passing, I miss everything about you. You made me proud always, I've enjoyed watching you grow into this amazing young man, so full of life, you've always had a beautiful heart, kind, gentle, and genuine. You stood up for those to afraid to stand up for themselves. If you fell down you always picked your self up, dusted your self off and came back better and stronger. You looked so much like me everyone would say you were the male version of me, and I loved hearing that. I had to be your mother and your father and did that best I could with what I had to work with. I'm sorry that you didn't have that male roll model you so desperately wanted, but you always came to me for anything you needed help with and I was always there giving you what you needed, so we did it just fine just you and I. You were a mommas boy and I wouldn't trade that for anything in this world. I'm devastated that your gone, it's so hard to think of a future where your not in it. I will long for your presence for the rest of this life I have left, you will never be forgotten, but you will forever be missed. My baby Sage that you will always be to me. Such joy you brought into my life I am truly thankful for the years I had with you. Wait for me, for when it's my time I want you there to help me pass to the other side. I'll be looking for you, please find me.
Forever your loving mom

“ Thank you for being my best friend for over 16 years. It's a rare thing, I appreciate every moment we've had together. When we were teenagers going into high school, my family moved me across seas. You were one of a few friends who stayed in contact and never gave up on our friendship. It means so much to me for getting the privilege to know you and be your friend.

Love, Amelia❤️
