

Scott Christopher Russell

October 29, 1956 - March 31, 2010

Scott Christopher Russell, 53, Vancouver, WA, passed away on March 31, 2010 at SW Washington Medical Center. He was born in Burbank, CA where he graduated from Agoura High School in 1975 and later attended Morepark Jr. College in Southern California. Scott began his career with Western Airlines and was currently a flight attendant for Delta Airlines and a realtor for Keller Williams. Scott was a man who had a heart of gold; he had a gift for graciousness and humor. His laugh was infectious, his smile was radiant. The glow from his soul shone on his face and in his life. He had a passion for surfing the big waves, kite surfing, traveling, music, playing guitar and drums, love for his wife and children and all the people who had the chance to meet him. Scott was a man who never met a stranger, loved life and lived it to the fullest. May we all live by Scott's outlook on this journey through life. Thank you Scott, for including us in your adventures and giving us the memories we will cherish through our own. We love you more than you will ever know. Scott is survived by his wife, Angela; children, Scott Russell Jr. and Aimee J. Russell; parents, Mark and Evellyn Russell; brothers, Craig and Rusty Russell; sisters, Laura Dokken, Leslie Russell; nephews, Zachary Menna, Bennett Yasskin, Colton Russell, Christian Dokken; and nieces, Makenna Russell, Campbell Dokken. Special thanks to all of Scott's family and friends who supported the family and contributed to our amazing memories.

“ My families thoughts and prayers go out to Scott's family in this time of loss. He flew with my mom for many years and was also the one who brought both my parents to Christ. He used to make fun of me when I was about 3 because I couldn't pronounce the word finger, and would call in my "bingo". The last time we saw Scott (about 7 years ago in Moorpark, CA) he reminded me of that little saying. Scott was a kind man and someone who will leave a lasting impression on our hearts! He will truly be missed and is at peace in heaven now. Our love and prayers to everyone who is hurting during this sad time.
