“ Sheryl sneaked off to heaven to dance with Jesus . I don't blame her for wanting to leave pain in her body. We spent lots of adventures seeking out healing lines. She usually gathered a carload of people to take along the journeys. Her life as a nurse/caregiver was full of people and adventures. She was braver than I am, Willing to leave the 99 for the one that everyone else was trying to avoid. I'm sure she is having a blast with all the friends she has up in heaven. A big party . She loves to be social. Now she looks 30 so I am so happy for her and a little jealous. Time here goes quick , and I'm thankful to have spent time with her. Kay Richards
