

Sorena Ann Thompson

March 20, 1914 - March 1, 2010

Sorena Ann Thompson, a long time resident of Vancouver, WA, passed away Mon., March 1, 2010 at the Ray Hickey Hospice House while surrounded by the family and friends she cherished most in her life. She died of complications from a stroke. She was born in Portland, OR on March 20, 1914. Sorena was the matriarch of a large Vancouver family for which she spent her life nurturing and providing loving support, counseling and guidance. Late in her life she became an active contributor to national and international issues including child care, health care, and U.S. sovereignty. She was known for her honesty and frankness. She willingly provided her honest and unmasked opinion on any subject. Sorena is survived by a daughter, Joan Capitano in Aloha, OR; and two sons, Jerry Thompson in Paulsbo, WA, and Ron Thompson in Vancouver, WA; nine grandchildren; and nine great-grandchildren, all of whom she loved and cherished. A viewing will be prior to the funeral services that begin at 12:30 p.m, Thurs., March 4, at Evergreen Memorial Gardens, Vancouver.

“ Jerry,Ron,Joan: I will be with you today in thought & spirit, saddened that I cannot be there in person with all of you. I loved Aunt Sorena and will miss her terribly. I will never forget her wit, silliness and loving nature. My loving memories of her will be with me forever. With my love to you all, Your Cousin Jackie
