“ My dear sister Susan I miss you more than I can say. It was so good to see you when you came home just a few years ago. You were always so full of life, never standing still and I will always remember you this way. Now you have gone to your place of rest after suffering with such torment. It's a comfort to know that you were cared for at your home in your final days. God bless you and keep you my dear sister. So much love from your brother Nigel.
