“ To the family of Auntie Gigi, Vickie and Richard and the rest of the family. I may not have been around your Mom much, living far away as I was, but whenever I got the chance to go to Washington, I made it a point to visit my dear Uncle John, my grandfather's only living sibling, and your Mom. Auntie Gigi was very welcoming, she shared fruits from her plants which she was very proud of, and always her spirit of inafamaolek! Her love story of her young love lost, and her husband, your Dad, and all the adventures of your growing up and how proud she was of each and every one of you, and then how she rekindled her flame when she and my uncle met again. Her love of dance and Chamorro music touched my heart as those too are what I love. She was a great woman and I am so glad to have visited her and although a quick meet... it was a pleasure meeting you both, Richard and Vicky. My sincere condolences to you, your Mom would always be a woman I admired since I met her.
